"CRAZY DAY" IN WOBURN FRIDAY

Retail stores in Woburn have selected Oct. 12 from 1:00 to 9:00 p.m. as "Crazy Day".

The value packed event will feature fantastic specials to the shoppers of the greater Woburn area.

Wise shoppers will be on hand as close to opening time as possible, as it is expected that the values will be "snapped up" as soon as the doors are opened.

Merchants are presenting values on this day, so unrelated to normal prices, that merchants in their own words have to be "crazy" to offer them. Prices are indeed breaking a record for savings.

The stores in Woburn will open at 1:00 o'clock in the afternoon and will remain open until 9:00 o'clock at night.

WILMINGTON CLEANERS AFFILIATED WITH HIGHLAND LAUNDRY.

George and John Smith, proprietors of Wilmington Cleaners, announce that their store is now an agency for Highland Laundry Company of Lowell, one of the oldest and best known quality laundries in Middlesex County.

Wilmington Cleaners, situated at the corner of Church and Main Streets in Wilmington, are now prepared to offer residents of Wilmington and Tewksbury 3 day service for all types of laundry, including rugs, curtains, blankets, fluff dry bundles, finished bundles, shirts, etc. At the same time they will continue to give their customers the finest in dry cleaning service.

MALICIOUS DAMAGE ON LOWELL ST.

Petitions are now out to impress the importance to the Selectmen that their meetings should be open to the press. For sometime now, the Selectmen have been meeting secretly with the press barred. This condition is one that is being fought by The Crusader as we believe it to be extremely un-American. There are only a few places in this country that bar the press from meetings and Wilmington is one.

We believe that the people in the coming election next spring will remember this and will replace our present board with members who will have open meetings and not censored releases as are now being released to the press.

THE DIE IS CAST

Well we took the leap and started out with our petitions last week. After all the urging we had received, and the promises of signatures, we were still doubtful as to the reception we would receive when we appeared, pen in hand.

We are very much gratified with results, of course we did receive a couple of refusals on the grounds that the individuals involved were against signing petitions in any event or cause, but we expected this.

In all other cases, we needed to do no urging.

We have had requests for petitions to circulate. Some people will undoubtedly work harder than we ourselves for what they believe is right.

It is also pleasing to know that there are others fighting the same battle. The Boston Globe on Sunday Sept. 30 carried a fine editorial by Uncle Dudley that said it as we would like to be able to do.

It is still early to tell just how many signatures we'll get, but if things keep up as they are going now we'll have a sizable list to present for consideration to those who proclaim to work in the interests of the towns people.

If you are not approached, and wish to sign our petitions requesting admittance to the Selectmen's meetings, call OL 8-3820 and we're still ready to come to you.

ST. DOROTHY'S HOLY NAME SOCIETY NEWS
St. Dorothy's Holy Name Society will conduct another in its weekly blitz parties this coming Tuesday at the Hall on Main St.

This Sunday is Communion Sunday for The Holy Name Society and all the men of the parish. It is hoped that all the men of the parish will be present at the 8:30 Mass at St. Mary's. The men will meet outside the church and enter in a group.

Sunday evening at 8:00 at St. Dorothy's hall the Holy Name Society will hold its regular monthly meeting, and for this meeting the Society is privileged to have as its speaker the former chaplain of Charles-town State Prison, Monsignor Robinson, an enjoyable evening will be had by all that attend. The society is hopeful that all the men of the parish will turn out for this occasion. It will also give the non members a chance to meet the officers and members of the society, and to see just what the society is doing, at present the society is conducting a membership drive through the Archdiocese, the goal is 15,000 new members.

A new member is a man who has never before been enrolled in the society. Once a Catholic man joins the Holy Name Society, he is a Holy Name Man forever. We would like to get as many new members as possible, also we want the names of new parishioners who are members from other parishes, so that we can say that every man in St. Dorothy's Parish is a Holy Name Man.

V.F.W. DUGOUT DOINGS

The gang went down to the Andover Country Club last Friday night to attend the Lions Harvest Ball. The turnout was terrific and a good time was had by all. As usual, our fair ladies outdid themselves (or should I say our wallets) and all sported new dresses for the occasion. They looked very good and made us fellows proud of them. Every body danced— even Alan Fenton and Stan. When we got there there were no empty tables or chairs either—but a foraging party quickly settled that. As a matter of fact when the detail was through our party all were seated in comfortable wicker settees.

Saturday night Rosie and Freddie were host and hostess at their home. As usual we all ate till we couldn't eat any more. Josie made some of her famous pizzas and even Helen ate mushrooms—all unknowingly. Our Military Ball plans were going along smoothly. The Ad Book is filling up and the tickets are being distributed. Any member wishing to acquire tickets should drop in to Tom Connors' Tydol Station on Main Street and obtain some. Tom has been putting herculean effort into this and like to take this opportunity to thank him.

1957 membership dues are now payable. How's for contacting Fred Kleynen and getting your new card. Incidentally—1957 dues are now $4.00. Let's go, Guys.

The plans for our New Building are rapidly coming closer to reality. Let's all get down to the hall Thursday—Oct. 11 and hear all about it. Our building fund is mounting. If you're interested at all in helping to build our new post—get down to the hall and learn what's going on.

Don't forget the next social Oct. 20. Rosie and Freddie are going to run it and Ravioli's will be the main course. Almost every one enjoys them, but let's contact Rose and make the reservations now as this particular meal can't be guessed at.

Al Oullette dropped in for a visit last week and made me very happy. I'm looking forward to seeing you at our meeting—Al come down and get caught up on the activity.

My sincere thanks to the kind thoughtfulness shown me by our post and auxiliary members these last couple of weeks.

Visited with George Spanos last Friday and am happy to say he's feeling fine and still keeping the faith. He says to say "Hello" to everyone and that he hasn't forgotten anyone. The square seems deserted without the lighted windows of George's Restaurant and I know that everyone misses him.

Our little Buddy Googins has passed away and we of the V.F.W. Post 2458 extend our deepest sympathy to his parents.

If you members wonder what is going on at the dugout these Thursday afternoons—it's a dancing school for children, being run by Miss King of Lexington. After meeting Miss King and her charming mother—I'm wondering if maybe she couldn't have adult dancing. Al Fenton and I were out looking at our prospective land for our new building—Sunday. I have the plan of the location of the desired land and will have it on hand Thursday night at the meeting. I know it will prove interesting to you—so I hope all members come down and attend.

This meeting is also intended for our trustees auditing of our books—I expect to see Walt Smith—Bill Bovitz and Thomas Lafonatis to attend and inspect the Quartermaster's books. Are you ready—Freddie? Thanks to—

DRAMATICS CLUB NEWS

The Dramatics Club, under the direction of Miss Horner, is rehearsing a one act comedy called "A Date with Paul."

The play takes place in the living room of the Nolan home. There is a constant rivalry between Lynne (Freda Shepherd), the intelligent sister, and Milcent (Eleanor Kirkell), the beautiful sister.

The conflict is over Paul Reynolds (Russ Gould), a nephew of Emma Pierson (Sara Jane Marsh) a next door neighbor of the Nolan's. A great deal of trouble is caused by Theodore Nolan (Thomas MacFeeley). Marion Nolan (Anne Cavanaugh), the mother and a health food addict, adds to the plot.

This play is to be the first of many presentations to be done by the club.

LARCENY FROM DOROTHY ST.

At approximately 8:50 a.m. on Tuesday, October 2, William Harrison, of Church St., a contract plumber reported to police that a larceny had occurred at the Signore development.

Nearly one hundred dollars worth of materials had been stolen from the Dorothy St. property. Over one hundred pounds of lead and five ingots, valued at $39.20 along with copper water pipes and fittings valued at $40.00 had been taken. Also found missing was a keg of nails and several lots of siding shingles.

Officer Shepherd investigated the incident.

FRED GILGUN
CANDIDATE FOR
REPRESENTATIVE
SPEAKS TO NORTH
READING ROTARY CLUB

Fred Gilgun, candidate for Representative for the Wilmington District, and a Probation officer in the Woburn Courts, gave the following talk to the North Reading Rotary Club. Over 150 guests were present and he received a standing ovation for the inspiring talk.

The following is the talk given:
I have always admired those men who because of some great talent that is a mystery to me, could regale large audiences with witty stories and entertain the audience so roundly that they would surely be asked back again. I have not such talent - but even if I had I think today I would forego the temptation to entertain you; for I know that in asking me here you expected I would say something timely, and I do not want to abuse your patience by wasting your time.

You have asked me to offer a few reflections, this morning on a subject which is for all of us something of a pre-occupation and which is for me an occupation as well.

Juvenile Delinquency is a large field - time and talent prevent me from giving it anything like a complete coverage. In the understanding of juvenile crime and the rehabilitation of the juvenile criminal, clergymen, medical men, officers and judges of the law, all these and social workers and so many more play many specialized roles and it is only the fool among them who pretends to be a specialist. The very complexity of the thesis seems to allow for little more than theorizing except, of course, where general truths and first principles are involved.

The comments I make here this morning and the suggestions offered toward a longed for remediation of the condition are the fruits of a few years of personal experience and perhaps even more the result of experience and thoughtful analysis of many men much more worthy of an audience than am I.

Statistics are not important but without them the picture would not be complete and so here are the statistics. Available reports for 1954 indicate that crime of all kinds increased about 8.2% over 1953. We know definitely that in 1953 the crime rate was up 8% over the preceding year. How much of this increased lawlessness is due to the wrongdoings of juveniles is shown by the fact that in 1953 offenders under 18 years of age accounted for 53.5% of all car thieves, 49.3% of burglars, 40.1% of all other thieves and 16.2% of all rapists.

F. B. I. estimates indicate that there is one delinquent out of every 18 youngsters between the ages of 15 and 17 inclusive. If this trend continues we shall face a crime wave of great proportion during the late 1950's and early 1960's. Right now the percentage of teenagers in our population is comparatively small owing to the low birth rate of the years just prior to our entrance into World War II. But the teenage population is about to rise spectacularly and you can see from what I have already said that if we do not prevent the "kids" coming along from producing as many law-breakers per capita as the current crop then we are in for an age of lawlessness the like of which the world has never seen and the thought of which sends a cold shiver down the spine of rather sober and experienced men.

But we can do something, and my purpose in coming here today is quite simply to point out what can be and must be done. I don't suppose in all the writing on this subject anything has been stressed as much as the HOME. It seems that all the experts are agreed. J. Edgar Hoover, does not hesitate to say "there is always a cause and effect relationship between the delinquent and the home from which they come." However, he is careful to point out that it is not always easy to tell what makes a good or a bad home. Mr. Hoover declares that one's financial circumstances, education or I. Q. rating have little or nothing to do with the qualifications of parenthood. But good parents are like this:

1. Parents who try to understand their children and parents who find time to cultivate their friendship.
2. Parents of integrity who face facts and live by truth.
3. Parents who live with in their means and give their children examples of thrift, security and stability.
4. Parents who are industrious and teach their children by word that most of life's good things come in last analysis from "hard work."
5. Parents who have worthwhile goals in life and who seek to have their children join in their attainment.
6. Parents who have common sense - and a sense of humor.
7. Parents who live in harmony and do not quarrel in the presence of their children.
8. Parents who have ideas and a compelling urge to serve rather than to be served.
9. Parents who are unwavering loyal to their children but who can express righteous indignation and chastise them when necessary. The old proverb says "Spare the rod and spoil the child is still as valid as it ever was."
10. Parents whose decisions are controlled not by what their children desire but by what they need.

I don't have time to describe to you what has happened to the American home in the last quarter century but surely it has changed and not for the better. There are many different ways of describing the sad situation but when all is said and done it comes down to this - the home has lost its authority.

Psychologists have us all dizzy pointing out how traditional methods of establishing and maintaining authority have distorted the ego of the sibling or worked some other perverse effect upon the child's personality. Gentlemen: what I know about psychology, psychiatry and associated sciences you could learn in a few hours spent with a manual at the Public Library and it would be therefore terribly out of order for me to pass judgment on the thesis and theories of these studies. Not to mention the sincerity of the men so engaged.

But I do know something about the juridical structure of our society and I have some sympathy for the culture of the Western Democratic world and I maintain that the firmest foundation, the most permanent problem for both is a healthy understanding of and a sincere respect for all legitimate authority both civil and religious.

Now the first cell in society is the family and the first authority with which the child comes in contact is parental. It is in this school that he must learn the meaning of the higher authority of God and the perfectly legitimate authority of the state. It is only by way of an exception, one too rare indeed to count upon that either a church or a school, orthodox and noble though they be can supply for the parents lack of attention, to this fundamental duty. Indeed, it is morally impossible for any power on earth to accomplish in a child respect for authority if the mother and father do not actively and intelligently cooperate.

Maybe you'll accuse me of trying to get myself off the hook when I do not go into greater detail on this point. Frankly, that is not my province. As a matter of fact, I have no children of my own, and further I don't even have a good lead on a future wife. You will have to look elsewhere for more precise instructions on how to school your children in authority. What are the dos and don'ts, the pros and cons, the helps and hindrances, the book, the tools, and all the rest. Let me say just this. Don't take every crackpot that writes a lonely hearts column in the column in the newspaper to be an expert.

Let me underline my point with a still heavier pencil. The good order of our school system (the normal role that the juvenile plays in society is that of student) depends entirely on the right relationship between principal and teacher on the one hand and the student on the other. The teacher is not a disciplinarian, nor is the principal. Their function is to impart knowledge in a systematic way. The very nature of their office seems to presume that the child will be subject to them during the time they are in school. Anything that contributes to this presumed right relationship is to be encouraged, not only for the advantage of society but for the child as well. All of us are subject to authority - we never get too old for it, and the only reason for a job like mine existing at all is simply because some refuse (culpably or inculpably) to subscribe to that truism "that authority is for everyone, forever."

How much do you suppose the cause of teacher authority was advanced by this rather humorous, albeit in another sense tragic, incident.

Talk of authority summons up in the imaginations

This administrative reorganization will also permit a more logical and orderly disposition of water liens and water main extension betterments while minimizing the duplication of records and clerical work.

Mr. Collins, Superintendent of Schools has reported a sharp increase in the out-of-town vocational training program over which neither the town nor the school department exercise control, although costs must be borne by the Town.

The Town Manager reported that he has been invited to address the Annual Conference of the National Municipal League and the Annual Conference of the New England Council. In each case the topic will be "The Town of Wilmington as a case study in good planning."

An engine endurance record for Naval vessels was set back in 1893 when the USS PHILADELPHIA, traveled 4,975 miles in 18 days and 18 hours. This performance meant that not once had her engines ceased operating during that time.

The Navy has been conducting tests on preservation of food by nuclear power with amazing results. Recently, meat slices that had been packed in cans in 1953, then "irradiated" with high-energy cathode rays and stored in ordinary refrigeration, were taken out and eaten. Other foods tested include pork sausage links, which were still edible after 120 days of storage and ground beef proved edible after 3 months.

JOHN COSMAN IN ILLINOIS

Dear Sirs:

Am wondering if the Crusader is still being sent to Wilmington Servicemen.

Am now and have been since July on a Temporary duty assignment here in Illinois. Am attending "Meteorological Forecaster Technician School" here at Chanute A. F. B. But of course I never hear very much about Wilmington out here and therefore am rapidly losing contact with the old home town. Would really appreciate the Crusader if it is still available. I expect to graduate from this school on the 21st of May next year if things continue to go okay.

My very best to all my old classmates (Class of 51) and other friends back there in Wilmington.

Sincere thanks for your time and trouble.

DONALD TARBELL RETURNS FROM ARCTIC REGIONS

BOSTON, Donald C. Tarbell, Jr., radioman first class USN, son of Donald C. Tarbell of 53 Burnap St., Wilmington and husband of the former Miss Gertrude V. Looan of Tewksbury, returned to this city September 28, after spending three months in the Arctic regions aboard the USS Edisto.

Edisto, an Atlantic Fleet icebreaker, sailed to the Arctic June 25 as part of a joint service task force carrying an annual load of supplies to the outposts of the distant Early Warning Line (DEW) and other important military installations in the Canadian Northwest territories.

Edisto was not originally expected to return until late in October but loss of one of her propellers while transiting heavy ice forced her to forgo scheduled date-gathering operations in extreme northerly waters.

Edisto will undergo an overhaul and upkeep period in Boston for the next few months while her crew enjoys a timely leave period.

I would be most appreciative if you would send the Wilmington Crusader to the address above. I would also like to extend my sincere thanks to all that makes it possible for me to receive the paper.

Although I'm away from home, I still like to keep abreast with the welfare and general being of my hometown. And you can rest assured that the Wilmington Crusader does it wholeheartedly. Again I must thank all those who help to make it possible for me to keep up with the events at home.

Respectfully yours,

Richard F. Cantwell

FLONDA - LUOZZI

At a ten thirty o'clock nuptial Mass, September 3 in Boston, Miss Lucy Luozzi daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Enrico Luozzi of South Boston became the bride of Mr. Joseph P. Flonda, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Flonda of Woburn and formerly of Stoneham. Rev. Louis Savio performed the ceremony and serving as altar boys were Ralph and Stephen Ragucci of Woburn, friends of the groom. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over peau de soie fashioned with a V neck line fitted bodice, long sleeves and full skirt with long train. Her veil was fingertip length and she carried a bouquet of white stephanotis centered with white orchids. Matron of honor, Mrs. Loretta Luozzi wore a ballerina length gown of pink Chantilly lace over nylon net and carried a bouquet of Mamie Eisenhower roses. Little Miss Diane Del Gaudio as flower girl wore a blue lace and net gown the same style as the matron of honor's and carried a basket of rose petals. Mr. John Luozzi, a cousin of the bride was the best man and the ushers were Messrs. Louis Galante, Frank Dattilo, Nello and George Luozzi, cousins of the bride and Anthony Collette and Frank Iatrate. Reception was held at the Anthony Club in North Woburn with the newlyweds leaving later in the day for New York and on September 8th, they left by TWA for a two month visit to Italy. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Flonda will reside at 1026 Main St., Woburn.

BALDWIN CIVIC ASSOCIATION
Mr. Waldo Stevens reports on the problems of the Water Department. Mr. Stevens was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Baldwin Civic Association held Tuesday, October 2. He began his talk by pointing out that the past problems of fluoridation and extensions had been taken care of the latter by acceptance of Betterments by the Town at the Annual Town Meeting. All those not now serviced by water will have an opportunity to be serviced much sooner than past practices have allowed. The biggest problem at the present time is one of supply. The present pumping capacity is about two million gallons per day. There have been days when the amount was not sufficient. The North Reading contract has not been renewed although we will continue to supply them with water from time to time in order to keep good liaison between the town in case of emergencies in either town. About 20 wells per year are cleaned, increasing their capacity by about 40%. It is estimated that metered services use 130 gallons per day, while unmetered services use 300 gals. per day. Since about 50% of our town is unmetered, our usage should drop upon completion of the installation of meters. The engineering firm of Whitman and Howard has been engaged to study the entire Water Department and make recommendations of action to be taken in order to make the department self-supporting. They have reported that the present method of distribution is basically good. They did say, however, that the size of some mains shows poor long range planning and that several mains of less than six inches should be replaced as soon as possible. In the future all mains will be at least six inches. A guide has been obtained for future action. Mr. Stevens also mentioned that the department has difficulty collecting the bills. At times up to 50% of the bills are unpaid. They can now apply the lien act and unpaid water bills will be added to the real estate tax bill in the future.

COMMUNITY CENTER WHIST PARTY

GENE DEMAGGIO AND WARREN HERSEY INVITE TOWNSPEOPLE TO VIEW THE NEW SUPERIOR TRAILER

Gene DeMaggio, proprietor of the Lakeside Trailer Park, Oak St., No. Billerica and Tewksbury and Warren Hersey are now the proprietors of the D & H Trailer Sales located in the Trailer Park.

Both of these men are all set to show you their new SUPERIOR trailer now on display. They are there seven day and nights a week and so all you have to do is to show up when it is convenient for you as you will always find one on duty.

The new Superior Trailer, all that the name implies, is a 47 foot model and it is a dream home anyone would love to own and the low cost of purchasing and then the low cost of operating such a beautiful home will save you hundreds of dollars a year.

Mr. Hersey who is associated in the trailer sales with Mr. DeMaggio is originally from Winchester. He now lives with his wife in a trailer in Gene's park. His trailer is large enough to have an extra bedroom for his daughter who is now in training for a nurse. So, when daughter comes home she always has a place to stay.

A few years ago, Mr. Hersey was a district manager for the Boston Edison Co., and is now with the American Machine & Foundry. About a year and a half ago, he sold his large home in Winchester, bought a trailer and moved into the Lakeside Trailer Park. The amount of money he has saved living in a trailer is unbelievable. He estimates that he has saved at least 75% compared to what he used to spend when he owned a large home.

He recommends that newly married and retired people should look into the possibility of buying a mobile home as they can save a great deal of money. Even the doctor bills are less. Mr. Hersey stated that since moving into his mobile home he has never had a cold.

Heating a mobile home can be done for less than $100 a year. The floors are always warm and there are so many other advantages that they are too numerous to mention.

Mr. DeMaggio and Mr. Hersey urge you to come over over and inspect the mobile homes and find out for yourself the advantages gained by this modern way of living.

BOSTON & MAINE APPROVES PURCHASE OF 50 DIESELS

The Board of Directors of the Boston and Maine Railroad at their meeting today in Worcester, approved the purchase of 50 new diesel locomotives and elected Maurice A. Traverse of Chestnut Hill a member of the Board.

This purchase of locomotives costing nine million dollars consists of 50 all-purpose 1,750 horsepower diesels of the latest type and makes a total of forty-four million dollars spent by the Boston and Maine for new equipment since the new management took over the road under the leadership of President Patrick B. McGinnis. The new equipment consists of roller bearing freight cars, locomotives, air-conditioned Budd High-liner passenger cars, Talgo trains, and the latest type of piggy back equipment.

The election of Traverse to the Board of Directors fills a vacant position on the Board. He has been in the radio broadcasting industry all of his business life and has been an executive of the Yankee Network for the past twenty years.

He attended Boston English High School and Northeastern University. He is married and has three children and is a member of the Elgin Hill Country Club, The Boston Club, and the Radio and T. V. Executive Club.

APPLICATIONS AVAILABLE FOR NROTC

Applications are now available for the Navy's Eleventh competitive examination for its nation-wide NROTC college training program, according to a recent announcement by the Navy Department. The mental examination is scheduled for Dec. 8, 1956, and is open to all high school seniors and graduates who can qualify.

The deadline for all applications is Nov. 17, 1956, the Navy stated.

Successful candidates will start their Naval careers in colleges and universities across the country in 1957, with substantial financial assistance from the government. After a normal college education graduates will be commissioned as regular officers in the Navy or Marine Corps, for active duty with the fleet throughout the world. For those who apply and qualify, immediate assignment to flight training will open new careers in Naval aviation.

Male citizens of the United States between the ages of 17 and 21 are eligible to apply for the aptitude test. Persons attaining a qualifying score will be given the Navy's rigid midshipman examination next February. From the pool of qualified candidates remaining in competition, approximately 2,000 young men will be selected for appointment to the program and the college of their choice.

College men enrolled in the Regular NROTC program will spend their summers on training cruises with the Fleet, and will receive $600. annual retainer pay until commissioned. In addition to the normal college curriculum, the midshipmen will study a planned course in Naval science. All tuition, fees, and books will be furnished by the Navy.

Applications for his career program are available from Mr. Whitledge, Guidance Director of Wilmington High School, or from the nearest U. S. Navy Recruiting Station. Mr. Whitledge has been provided with specific information concerning the NROTC program and will furnish information bulletins to any interested student.

SCIENTISTS ARE NAMED TO BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF AVCO

The election of Dr. Lloyd P. Smith and Dr. Arthur R. Kantrowitz to the board of directors of Avco Manufacturing Corporation was announced today by Victor Emanuel chairman and president.

Dr. Smith, a vice president of Avco and president of its Research and Advanced Development Division, joined the company in July. Widely known as a research scientist in solid state physics, electronics and theoretical physics, he was chairman of the department of physics at Cornell University for ten years and director of its department of engineering physics. He has had extensive experience as a consultant to industry and government.

Dr. Kantrowitz joined Avco in February as a vice president and director of the Avco Research Laboratory, a unit of the Research and Advanced Development Division. He is widely known for his research work in gas dynamics, shock waves and the applications of physics and chemistry of gases to engineering and to astrophysics. From 1946 to 1956 he was professor of aeronautical engineering and of engineering physics at Cornell.

Mr. Emanuel said the election of Dr. Smith and

Dr. Kantrowitz as members of the board reflects the great importance attached by Avco to research and developmental activities in advanced scientific fields.

The Research and Advanced Development Division has been engaged in work related to an advanced Air Force missile system for some time. A team of outstanding scientists and consultants is engaged on the project at the Research and Advanced Development Division headquarters, Lawrence, Mass. and at the Avco Research Laboratory, Everett, Mass.

The Navy's first nuclear powered radar picket submarine, the USS TRITON, is under construction. Its principal mission will be to scout on the far fringes of the carrier task force to give warning of danger approaching by air, on the surface, or under the sea.

Flying F2H-4 BANSHEES, the Navy's famous fighting air squadron, the "Red Rippers", set an aerial bombing record never before attained by an Atlantic Fleet unit. All 14 pilots won top honors in loft bombing during the Atlantic Fleet's annual competitive exercise. One of the oldest squadrons in the Navy, Air Fighter Squadron dates back to February, 1927, when it was commissioned as Fighting Squadron Five at Hampton Road, Va.

The Navy's new Bell helicopter, HSL-1, demonstrated its strength when it towed a 300-ton salvage derrick through the water. An official of the Naval Air Test Center at Patuxent River, Md., visualizes the time when helicopters will be able to tow big ships unable to proceed under their own power.

of many, pictures of racks and ropes, hand-cuffs, billy, clubs, whips, razor straps and much more. Nonsense! Most of us, for example have a healthy respect for the authority of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts though we have never spent an hour in her jails. Webster defines authority as the right or power to decide or command and also as one whose judgement is accepted as decisive. The child must be taught in a very humane and honest way that these are necessary properties of the parent in the home - and of the duly deputized administrators in civil society. Perhaps the child can be made to see that all his rights, of which he is naturally so jealous, have no protection apart from legitimate authority - demanding as it does that others respect his rights.

In our age civil rights have been in some measure restored to classes of persons who for years suffered under the sting of an exaggerated and in many instances an illicit authority. Thank God for this happy turn of events. We are well rid of any form of totalitarianism and there is still much to be done on this score. But I honestly think that in our necessary effort to reestablish civil rights define again the sacrosanct character of the private citizen has brought with it a certain spirit of lawlessness that our young people seem quite naturally to have made their own. To be popular in the perverse world of the 30's and 40's all one had to do was buck authority - and set up for ridicule the things that our fathers set up for honor "Nobody's going to push me around. I won't take that stuff from nobody" and similar mottoes ruled the lives and pointed up the philosophy of great multitudes. The home that once taught little people to feel humble before God, has today very really abandoned God with the boggy map.

You understand that my job as Juvenile Probation Officer is that of a protector of the rights of young people who have run afoul of the law. I am neither a Judge on the one hand nor a police officer on the other. I occupy a sort of a middle role between the two. Quite honestly, I suppose I love the juvenile infinitely more than I love the law but I have obligations to society as well as to the delinquent. The law is the source and insurance of our rights. AUTHORITY - there's the rub. It would be pure pleasure for me to work with a young offender who accepted from the start the validity of authority. I ask you to think on this and to do what you can to establish this first and always fundamental principle.

Obviously, it begins with God, the source of all authority and at the same time the foundation of all rights. The phrase "under God" has recently been added to the pledge. As if to say that we are one nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all, so long as we are a nation under God. Recognizing his authority, expressed and adapted as it is in civil and religious society - learned and nurtured as it is in the home, at the hands of good parents, we set about the task of bringing again into happy harmony - the shortcomings of young people and the requirements of the law. Under God we shall find a workable solution, so long as we are not too proud to admit our past mistakes as individuals and as groups - in public and in private life and so long too as we are not too soft to subject ourselves to that same authority - the vindication of which we long for as the cure for our sick society.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Curiosity may have killed the cat, but it has also saved millions and millions of one of the highest forms of man's natural curiosity. Man's eagerness to know the "why's" of life has been responsible for much of our progress and civilization. Medical research has been responsible for controlling a number of diseases that were once the scourge of mankind, for lengthening life, and for raising health standards generally. Without that form of curiosity that leads men to try to find out the causes and cure of diseases and how to control them, we would not enjoy the high standards of health and physical well-being we know today.

Men have never been satisfied that they knew all they wanted or needed about the mysteries of life. This has been a good thing for all of us and is a particularly good thing for the health of future generations. Despite the wonderful progress we have made against disease, much remains to be done; there are still numerous unknowns which have to be discovered through research if men are to live full, healthy, and happy lives.

The United States Government and voluntary health agencies, foundations, universities, and industry are devoting much energy, time and money to trying to find out how to defeat the ills that still rob men of happiness and productivity. When we realize how much research has accomplished and may accomplish in the future, we realize that this kind of curiosity is one of man's finest attributes.

PLANNED FOR OCTOBER 27

Saturday evening, October 27, at 8:15 at the High School Auditorium, the Sarah Davis Jacquith Carter lectures are to resume with the presentation of the De Koven Glee Club. The excellent programs of this series are given free to the public through the thoughtful bequest of Sarah D.J. Carter.

These lectures were established under the will of Mrs. S. D. J. Carter who left a trust fund of $6000, of which the interest is to be used for cultural lectures in Wilmington. The fund was established in 1909, a living memorial to a lady who as late as 1900 showed her interest in the community as a member of the Wilmington Library Committee.

The Jacquith family is one of the oldest in Wilmington. Sgt. Abraham Jacquith settled, near Aldrich Road and Forest Street, about 1665, and Jacquiths have lived here ever since.

Sarah Davis Jacquith was born March 24, 1832, the daughter of Joshua Jacquith, Jr., and Sarah Gowins. Her mother had lived near Shawsheen Ave., and Carter Lane, and was one of the old Gowins family, which first settled on Park Street, in 1710, in a house which is still standing.

Sabra Gowins Jacquith died in 1893, at the age of 99 years and 4 months. She has told Wilmington people, some of whom may still be living, or remembering when she was a girl of 4 years of age, and hearing her father remark, when he came home one evening, that George Washington had died.

Sarah had a sister, Sabra Jane, born March 12, 1825, and a brother Joshua O. born Nov. 26, 1823. She became a school teacher, and taught in Wilmington schools, teaching for a while in what is now the Public Library. One of her pupils was Mary L. White, who was later to become the mother of our present Town Counsellor, Phillip Buzzell.

Sarah married, Feb. 5, Cyrus Lewis Carter, a man who was some years her senior, and who was born in Wilmington. He seems to have been a relative of Sabra Carter, (daughter of Timothy Carter) the lady who developed the idea of selling flower seeds, in packets, by mail, at least, the house he owned is reputed to have been part of Sabra Carter's earlier home, which was moved to the site where he lived.

The house in which Sarah and her husband lived stood over the cellar hole which is back of Weinberg's store. It now stands across the street, the first house on Middlesex Avenue, next to the Railroad yard. The barn too, has been moved across the street, and both buildings are now apartment houses. Many residents can remember these buildings before they were moved. When the house was the home of Walter A. Hill, Chief of Police.

Cyrus Carter died in 1882, at the age of 70, and Sarah, and her sister Sabra, (who never married) lived together in this big house for many years. A few stories are still told about these sisters.

Sabra, for instance, is remembered as wearing a close fitting black bonnet with jet beads, and the two ladies had a dog, which was described as a black and tan called Tony. Tony was never let out of the house, except when the ladies took a walk, and then he was kept on a leash. He was well fed, but didn't get much exercise, and as a consequence could barely waddle along in his late years. He died an old fat dog, blind from cataracts.

Mrs. Carter was apparently quite parsimonious, for the story is told that she tried to dicker with a local store keeper for just enough milk each morning, for two cups of tea.

The store keeper, Charles Hudson, who had a store across from the Theatre Block, and then later where the McLaughlin Drugstore block now stands, is reported to have growled, "Bring up your tea, and I'll give you milk."

This was the lady who established the S. D. J. Carter Lecture Fund, a cultural activity worthy of any town or city.

(We are indebted to Capt. Larz Neilson, for compiling the story of Mrs. Carter.)

This is a great automobile, from the large honest dial faces on the instrument panel to the effortless loafing way it cruises.

The new Ford begins with the "inner Ford." Its new elegance comes from within, from the way its automotive muscles are put together. All the changes are toward more rugged endurance, toward increased power,

WILMINGTON FALLS TO WINCHESTER 20-7

by June Goss
Wilmington played a hard game with Winchester Monday but was defeated by a score of 20-7.
Coach Bellissimo's starting line-up was as follows:
W. Fairfield, C. LaCreta,

W. Cormier, J. Barry, W. Colgate, D. Burbine, R. Boudreau, G. Munroe, N. McCormick, W. Rooney, D. Weed.

During the first quarter, after a series of three plays Winchester scored their first touchdown. Wilmington held Winchester back from making their extra point. During the quarter J. Gurskie, B. Rosa, S. Cavallaro, J. Amaro, R. Combs, W. Cormier, B. Spellman and W. McFeeters came onto the field.

Bobby Spellman intercepted a pass on the thirty-yard line from Winchester and charged down the field to score a touchdown for Wilmington. Joe Gurskie then followed through to get that extra point bringing the score 6-7.

In the third quarter, Winchester scored again making the score 13-7. Each team fought hard but the visiting team was stronger. In the last quarter, our visitors scored again making the final score 20-7.

Throughout the game George Munroe and Sammy Cavallaro made long passes which were received with ease by Bobby Spellman. There were no costly fumbles by Wilmington; Winchester fumbled once and Wilmington recovered the ball.

WILMINGTON EDGED BY AYER, 20-13

By Bill Fay

The Wilmington High Eleven engaged in their third contest of the current season and came out on the short end of a 20-13 decision. The team once again showed their potential but just couldn't ignite the spark that would lead to victory.

The Ayer eleven in the first quarter could do nothing with the Wilmington defense and could not move the ball for any substantial yardage. The second quarter was quite a different thing with the Ayer backfield punching holes in the sagging Wilmington defense. Recovering a Wilmington fumble, they marched fifty yards on the ground and Ayer quarterback Quigley smashed through for the first score. A fake kick and pass to Lavery, the right end, was good for the point. Gionet promptly crashed through from 14 yards out, and minutes later the score stood Ayer 13, Wilmington 0.

The third quarter found Ayers' backfield of Gionet and Lavery combining to run the ball to the Wilmington seventh after recovering a Wilmington fumble. Then Lavery on an end sweep halted the Ayer scoring. The score stood 20-0-Ayer.

Wilmington tried hard to get back in the game late in the third quarter when fullback, Joe Gurski crashed over from his own third yard line. Amaro ran for the extra point successfully. Minutes later he blasted through from the 33 yard line for the final score of the day—20-13.

Highlights

Wilmington nearly tied the game in the final minutes with a series of passes but, after an Ayer interception, the rally died.

There was a good crowd of local rooters to urge the Wilmington squad on. This support helps the boys a great deal and keeps up school spirit!

Wilmington's next game is
